Our Fees

Many people living with chronic debilitating conditions, or disabilities, who require assistance with activities of daily living, would prefer to stay in their own homes for care. Retired persons would like to remain in their own homes as they age and as many Retired people need some level of assistance with activities of daily living, to find the perfect home care agency to care for aging parents can be quite challenging to choose, from a stream of many providers out there. One question everyone asks is, "how much does your high quality private care cost? Of course, the financial impact of private care has to be considered when choosing care, but costs do vary based on the level of care required.

Our Services Fees Are Affordable !

Please contact us for our affordable quotes tailored for your needs.

At a Free Two Hours Initial Consultation Meeting, the nurse would work with you to assess and develop a personalized care plan and give you quotes for the specific services as applicable, please feel free to ask any questions you may have regarding fees, including subsidies and insurance coverages. due to disabilities

Employees and Staffing

Our staff are carefully selected, trusted and bondable. They are registered in their professional entities and are very experienced..We take extra care to screen out the very best personnels who we also train to uphold our values.

Because we do not compromise our high quality care standard, we take extra accountability measures through close monitoring of care our employees provide. We do this through visits, phone calls, surveys and client's feedback immediately after completion of each individual daily care. We also have a client's avenue to report any concerns that they may have or any measures that they may be uncomfortable with.

There is a good reason that we provide private care, our clients have control of what they want, how they want it, and when they want it. It is called, High Quality Private In-Home Care .
